Time & Talent STEWARDSHIP

This week, you will receive in the mail the Time and Talent form that allows you to indicate how you would like to contribute to the life of the church over the coming year in one or more of its various ministries. Please complete a form for each member of your family (including youth and children) and bring them to church on Pentecost Sunday, May 24, or mail them back in the envelope provided. We need everyone to make a commitment as to how you wish to contribute to the life and work of First Presbyterian in the coming year.

FROM THE PARISH ASSOCIATE

Dear friends,

Recently I came across something called the "New Church Planters Axiom." It goes like this: If you start a church, you may not get disciples. But if you begin with disciples, you may get a church.

That axiom holds a lot of truth not just for new church plants, but for old churches planted over a century ago as well! Here at First Pres, it is a reminder that before we are Christ's church, we must first be Jesus' disciples: disciples called to hear and meditate regularly upon the living word of God in scripture; disciples who long to pray without ceasing and worship the Creator of all that is; disciples who act with the steadfast love and faithfulness of God who whispered our names and showed us a love that is beyond our full understanding of it.

As Pentecost bears down upon us again this year, let us remember the wisdom of the New Church Planter's Axiom, even though we are a not-so-new church. And as we renew our discipleship, may the Spirit that calls us to be Jesus' disciples show us also our calling to be the Church of Jesus Christ in this place, at this time.

Courage and faith in all things,

Cherrie

LIVING WAGE CERTIFIED

First Presbyterian Church has applied to be "living wage certified" as part of a new effort in Durham that seeks to identify, acknowledge, and celebrate businesses that pay all of their employees a living wage. Launched in March 2015, the Durham Living Wage Project has now certified over 50 businesses and nonprofits in Durham that pay at least the living wage standard of $12.33/hour established by ordinance by the Durham City and County. Durham Congregations in Action (DCIA) has already been certified, but First Presbyterian will be the first living wage certified congregation in Durham. The Durham Living Wage Project is a voluntary employer certification program that is sponsored by the People's Alliance Fund. The program is modeled after a successful effort in Asheville led by Just Economics that has already certified more than 375 local businesses. For more information, contact Carl Rist (rist@frontier.com) or go to: www.durhamlivingwage.org

The first three chapters will be discussed on Sunday, May 24. Books are $12.00 each (large print). The novel has its roots in the Social Gospel Movement. This progressive Protestant movement influenced churches to develop various theologies including a social outreach to the problems of today's society.
