ADULT SUNDAY SCHOOL

Faith and Community

Dr. Christy Lohr Sapp, Associate Dean for Religious Life at Duke University Chapel, will lead us in a discussion of the meaning of the Protestant Reformation in today's ecumenical environment. As a Lutheran, Christy has worked in a variety of ecumenical and interfaith organizations including the World Council of Churches and the North American Interfaith Network. We are delighted she can join us on Reformation Sunday. Class meets at 9:45 a.m. in Watts-Hill Hall.

Lectionary Class

Does God have more important things to do than listen to our prayers? In Sunday's readings, there are two examples of people who made their requests loudly and persistently. What response did they receive? "I sought the Lord, and he answered me." Join us for discussion at 9:45 in the East Parlor.

Journeys Class

Journeys will discuss selected chapters from Proverbs and continue studying Ecclesiastes. We meet at 9:45, second floor, classroom at the end of the hall.

SCRATCH/Young Adults Class

We are discussing the theology of place and what it means to be a disciple of Christ at the corner of Roxboro and Main. Alex Stayer Brewington leads the discussion. Join us at 9:45 in a basement classroom.

Family Matters Class

Parents of elementary age and younger children share the road of parenting and dabble in Scripture. We meet at 9:45 in the CE building, room 203.

Spiritual Formation

Susan Dunlap leads this class on spiritual formation. Class meets Sunday mornings at 9:45 in the basement classroom.

STEWARDSHIP SEASON

October 11 – November 8

THEME: "Many People, One Body"

For just as the body is one and has many members, and all the members of the body, though many, are one body, so it is with Christ.
(1 Corinthians 12:12)

From public radio and TV, school fund-raisers, scouting, we are constantly asked to give. And we do, believing in the cause. For our church, we are asking that you GIVE BACK. Pledging a set amount to the church coffers is a way to give back to a vibrant, nurturing entity that has given to us. We are the many parts making a whole for children, youth, young adults and seniors.

Count the many ways you have received from FPC. Respond by pledging so that others may receive in the years to come. Your part will make our whole continue to support our Core Values, including faith exploration and social mission.

Grace and peace,
Celia Dickerson, chairperson

FROM THE ASSOCIATE PASTOR

Sharper than any two-edged sword

For six weeks (October into November) our lectionary offers us a series of readings from the Letter to the Hebrews. Several weeks ago the lectionary contained one of my favorite passages on the power of God's Word as being "sharper than any two-edged sword." This is clearly one of the principal themes of the Protestant Reformation as well.

In the view of the ancient writer (in the view of every believer at that time), God's word has a dynamism that makes it sacred and awesome in its power to effect change. People listened intently when God's spokesperson delivered a message because the consequences were sure to be significant. In today's world, the power of human speech is considered quite differently despite our high expectations. We hear often that "talk is cheap," as if to indicate that mere words carry no weight at all. Of course, in the midst of our national and local political campaigns which are fully underway, we are reminded daily that only a very naïve person would take at face value the rhetoric of those running for office. In such a social climate, we must struggle mightily to recapture a sense of expectancy before the power of God's word. This expectancy requires an explicit act of faith—as well as a discipline of constant attention—to bring to The Word at worship each week a genuine openness to the miracles of grace that God continues to offer us in the proclamation of Sacred Scripture.

I invite you to reflect on your own attitudes and sense of expectancy toward the word of Scripture that is proclaimed here every week. Do you truly believe that God's word is "sharper than a two-edged sword"?

Thank you church family for all of your prayers and support. I am feeling much better and hope to return to church very soon.

With much gratitude,
Phyllis Verhey

Dear First Presbyterian,
Thank you! I was surprised and very touched when I received my very own prayer shawl. I took it with me to the hospital and then rehab, where it warmed my body and soul every day, and now it is with me at my "nest" at home (the comfortable couch!). I am feeling better every day and know that part of the reason I do is all of the love and support we've received from First Presbyterian. Thank you all for your support and love woven into the shawls you knit.

Sincerely,
Christyn
