SEPTEMBER 20, 2016

FROM THE PASTOR

Dear friends,

In our world today nations are torn apart by war, violence, and hatred inspired and justified by the distortion of religious tenets and beliefs. Religious extremism rears its ugly head through violent acts planned and executed by those who believe they are following the mandates of their faith. We have seen this when individuals claim that their violent acts were dictated by their religion. We also see this when nations or peoples set themselves against other nations and peoples for religious reasons.

This Sunday, September 25, we will engage in conversation around the question of what causes religion to turn violent as we welcome the Rev. Dr. Charles Kimball to our Faith and Community Sunday morning class (9:45 a.m. in Watts-Hill Hall) and to our pulpit (11 a.m. in the sanctuary). In class, Dr. Kimball will lead a discussion on the Israeli-Palestinian conflict, as a part of the class's discussion on the book Chosen, by Walter Brueggemann. In worship, Dr. Kimball will preach on the commandment to love and what this means in our global, multi-religious world.

I hope you will be able to join us for this Sunday of conversation, exploration, and inspiration as we continue to seek to understand how God is calling us to live as followers of Jesus in this community and in the world beyond. Grace and peace to you all,

Mindy

P.S. Check out this article and video, too, if you have time!

Beginning Monday, October 3, our new parking lot traffic pattern will go into effect. Here are the particulars:

The only entrance to our lot will be from Liberty Street. Drivers coming north on Roxboro are asked to pass the lot, turn right onto Liberty, and use that entrance.

The only exit will be onto Roxboro Street (please note that you may only turn right onto Roxboro Street; crossing Roxboro Street to Parrish Street is illegal).

Signs and arrows painted on the lot will help guide the traffic flow and there will be a crosswalk painted in front of the Day School. Handicapped spaces will be obvious and well-marked.

We anticipate and appreciate your full cooperation with these new traffic patterns.

Thank you,
