From the Pastor . . .

Dear friends,

Last Sunday we experienced a powerful and meaningful beginning to Holy Week. Many of us gathered with our friends in Christ from Trinity United Methodist and St. Philip's Episcopal churches. We waved our palm branches in a parade that stopped at each church to bless the work of the gospel happening in our different, yet united, spaces.

At the beginning of our worship service we told the story of Jesus' entrance into Jerusalem as the people and children cried "Hosanna!" and spread their cloaks and branches to welcome their king. As worship continued, we moved from the Palm narrative to the Passion narrative as church members enacted the Passion of Christ, interspersed with our own prayers and sung confessions.

Perhaps the most moving moment of all came when the choir, led by Kathy Parkins on organ, sang "Were You There," a passionate piece by Raymond Haan and made even more beautiful by the soaring soprano voice of Lesley Curtis and the haunting cello of Fred Raimi. I was moved beyond words.

To be moved beyond words is exactly what this Holy Week calls for, I believe, as we walk the unspeakable way of the cross with Jesus and remember how he faced betrayal, death, and intense suffering before defeating death and turning the world on its head with love.

On this Tuesday of Holy Week, I share a poem to accompany us as we walk this journey with Christ to the cross. The poem is Lachrimae Amantis, by Geoffrey Hill:

What is there in my heart that you should sue so fiercely for its love? What kind of care brings you as though a stranger to my door through the long night and in the icy dew seeking the heart that will not harbor you, that keeps itself religiously secure?
At this dark solstice filled with frost and fire your passion's ancient wounds must bleed anew.

So many nights the angel of my house has fed such urgent comfort through a dream, whispered "your lord is coming, he is close"
that I have drowsed half-faithful for a time bathed in pure tones of promise and remorse:
"tomorrow I shall wake to welcome him."

May we not wait until tomorrow to welcome him. May we welcome our Lord today and every day.

With love,
Mindy

Sunday, April 16 - Easter / Resurrection of the Lord Sunday

As part of our Easter tradition, everyone is invited to bring fresh flowers or greenery to church THIS Sunday to decorate a cross outside the Memorial Garden. Eventually the cross will be covered with beautiful flowers in a brilliant array of color, light and lovely fragrance. What was a symbol of death, darkness, pain and hopelessness is transformed into something beautiful, new and alive in celebration of the Resurrection of Christ. Together, we can transform the cross and help make this Easter a celebration of new life.

However, we WILL meet with mentors on Sunday, April 23 to talk about final plans for confirmation, and to prepare for our lunch and meeting with the FPC Session after worship that day. We would like for everyone to be prepared for that meeting. Happy Easter, and I'll see you back in class on April 23 . . . and at lunch that day!
