"Downtown by history and by choice"

Bi-Weekly Newsletter

May 1-13, 2018

From the Pastor . . .

I am eternally grateful for teachers. I am grateful for my own, who patiently guided me academically and personally – my elementary teachers who honestly named my inability to control my incessant talking as something that could be improved, my second grade teacher who gave me space to grieve the loss of a classmate and later gave me the chance to test my leadership wings, my third grade teacher who forced me to catch up in math after getting behind in second grade, my fourth grade teacher who let me dream and imagine a world of endless possibility, my fifth grade teacher who taught me poetry, my sixth grade teacher who set me on a path of loving science, the school librarian who encouraged my love for reading and let me feel like I owned the library, the music teacher who taught me rhythm, I could go on and on. I am also grateful for my son's teachers, who helped him learn and grow in more ways than I will ever be able to fully understand. I was constantly grateful for his teachers, who taught him what I could not, who had skills I didn't have, and who exhibited patience I could only dream of. I still think of them and hold them in my prayers as they continue to teach others along the way.

On Wednesday, May 16, our public-school teachers (many of whom are members at FPC) are going to advocate for themselves before our legislature in Raleigh and we who support them will advocate for them as well. Our teachers work tirelessly during the school year, up before the sun and working late into the night. They use their own resources to make sure their students have supplies and opportunities to learn. In too many cases they are underpaid, under-supported, and under-appreciated by the powers-that-be. They are taking this day to stand for our children and for the importance of their education. They are taking this day to stand for our future, for they know that a strong educational system (and equally strong for children of all races and cultures) leads to strong and confident children who will be the leaders of our tomorrows.

The Presbyterian Church (U.S.A.) has always been a strong supporter of education. Across the years, we have started schools (here and in many other countries) and supported public education as a right for all. In that same vein, FPC continues to support public education and the rights of all children to learn and grow in a safe, healthy, and equitable environment. The FPC Day School, housed in our space and started by this congregation in the early 70s, shows our commitment to early education for all. Our commitment to education is long-standing and a mark of our faith and commitment to the education, nurture, and formation of all God's children.

In this month when teachers are standing up for their own rights and for the rights of children across this state, may we support them with our prayers, our verbal encouragement, our presence at PTSAs, our financial support of education, and our physical presence (at marches and rallies, but, more importantly, as classroom volunteers).

With gratitude for teachers past and present and for all of you who have been shaped by them and continue to support them,

Mindy

Honduras Trip Report

Baby quilts, soccer balls, lots of prayers and well wishes, a generous donation for Habitat Honduras – all these gifts from our beloved church family went with us on our 10-day Habitat for Humanity trip to Honduras. How could it not have been an outstanding experience? We were once again blessed with an extraordinary group of people who went with us to help build a house for a lovely, hard working family. In addition to providing quite a bit of muscle to dig a solid foundation for the home and start raising the walls, we also shared our hearts with children in a local elementary school, a preschool, a shelter/orphanage for struggling babies and another for girls from ages 3 - 20, a home for the elderly, and new moms in the public hospital. We shed more than a few tears of joy while sharing the baby quilts upon seeing how happy the recipients were with those colorful and cozy gifts. And you cannot imagine how the eyes of young children light up when they are given a new soccer ball. Thank you for all your support and encouragement which gave us even more energy and passion for this work. It was another truly wonderful trip!

With much gratitude,

Margaret and Miguel Rubiera

PARISH NOTES

- Many thanks to the congregation for their contributions to the One Great Hour of Sharing (OGHS) Offering, the PC(USA)'s Special Offering for Lent which supports the PC(USA) Hunger Program, Presbyterian Disaster Assistance and the Self Development of People. To-date, we have received $5,781.48
- Congratulations to Kerry Holbrook, who is celebrating 5 years of being cancer-free at this year's Triangle Race for the Cure on Saturday, May 5.
- Kudos to high school seniors Frances Zehmer and Ellie Dilworth, who were honored by the youth group at the Sunday night Seniors' Banquet. And job-well-done to Maryn Leonard, who was recently inducted into the National Honor Society.

- Baby on the way for Brianna and Ricky Bennett, who are expecting their first child in September!
- So happy to report that Megan Champion passed both parts of her CNA certification exam, and is actively looking for work. Congratulations, Megan!
- Many thanks to Lenore Champion and the Christian Education Committee for a fabulous Fifth Sunday Intergenerational Sunday School this past weekend. With an emphasis on Earth Day, everyone had the opportunity to help plant a Pinwheel Garden for Child Abuse Prevention; to make a chia-head flower pot; to paint rocks for the Kindness Rocks project; to hand-print and sign a poster for the Red Hands Project against child trafficking; and to eat some yummy fruits of God's good earth. It was a wonderful mixing and mingling of all ages!
- Many thanks to Debbie Hamlin-Aggrey and the Membership Committee for sponsoring this spring's offering of Membership Inquiry Classes. We are deeply grateful for our class presenters, Mindy Douglas, David Smith, Phyllis Supple and Marilyn Hedgpeth, who spent time explaining Presbyterian history, polity, worship, ministry and mission to our participants. If any are interested in membership at FPC, please let the pastors know, and we'll convene the Session of the church to arrange for receiving you into membership. We honor each person's discernment process and are glad to entertain your questions and hear your stories.

SPECIAL ANNOUNCEMENT:

The DaySchool will operate on its normal schedule. Meetings that are not affected by parking restrictions will meet as scheduled. Please contact Tom Bloom, Business Administrator, at t.bloom@firstpres-durham.org if you have questions.

Children's Sunday School (grades 3-5)

May 6 is a feast day for the class! "Feed my sheep," Jesus tells Peter three times after the resurrection. The sheep will be fed on Sunday.

On May 13, we'll begin our final story for the year, Peter Heals a Lame Man In Jerusalem, from Acts 3: 1-16. The end of the year is coming soon, so stay tuned for end-of-the year instructions, and notification about our summer plans for everyone.

*****

Middle and high school youth classes meet at 9:45 a.m. in their lower level classrooms.

*****

Faith and Community Class:

May 6 and May 13:

Can we talk about guns, really? Why is it so hard, and so fraught with heightened emotion? Can we speak about the tragedy of mass shootings? Can we admit our fear of fire-arms in the wrong hands? Can we hear our youth speak about their experience of school as a sanctuary from violence? Can we talk theologically about violence, peace, and sin? The Christian Century has published a study guide for churches composed of articles about various facets of the gun issue, which will guide our conversation together for the next two Sundays in the Faith and Community Class. To access the study guide, click here or you can pick up a printed copy in the church foyer. The class meets on Sunday morning in Watts-Hill Hall at 9:45. All are welcome.

“Understanding Islam” will be our topic on May 20 and May 27, led by local Imam, Abdul Waheed.

*****

Lectionary Class: Join us for discussion at 9:45 in the East Parlor.

May 6: "This is my commandment, that you love one another as I have loved you." Can love be commanded, especially love as profound as that?

May 13: Do you belong to the world? Which is more real for you, the world of work and shopping and politics and daily concerns, or the world of God's truth? Or is there a difference?

Journeys and Scratch/Young Adults Class:

This Sunday, May 6, Journeys and Scratch will read and discuss a recent article concerning evangelicals. The article can be found here: <https://www.politicalorphans.com/the-article-removed-from-forbes-why-white-evangelicalism-is-so-cruel/>. All are welcome to join the conversation. We meet in the corner room of the 2nd floor of the education building.
